

The Meadows Mental Health Policy Institute is waiving registration fees for those in areas seriously affected by Tropical Storm/Hurricane Harvey. Please read the letter from our leadership below for details. We value your presence and your participation.

September 7, 2017

We are writing because you have registered for MMHPI's upcoming Engage & Excel Conference.

Above all else, thank you for your service to the State of Texas. And if you serve or reside in a county directly affected by Tropical Storm / Hurricane Harvey, the Institute has not stopped thinking about your community and what you're going through.

There's one thing we know for certain about each Engage & Excel attendee: you are a vital community servant. Wherever you may work or live in our great state, there is a good chance you have seen your work ramp up in unimaginable ways, and many of you likely have family and friends enduring the devastating aftereffects of Tropical Storm/Hurricane Harvey. If so, all of us at MMHPI hope you and your loved ones remain safe.

If you are serving in (or reside in) a county that has been declared a state or federal disaster area, many of your resources have likely been stretched further than anyone could have imagined. Since every little bit helps right now, MMHPI will waive your registration fee for Engage & Excel this year (and if you have already paid, we will refund your fee).

We certainly hope you can still be with us September 20, 21, and 22. Attendees will have compelling and valuable frontline information that will benefit everyone, and we're building in new sessions and speakers to address community mental health in the face of a catastrophic occurrence. We are working to make this premiere learning event responsive to the challenges you are facing right now.

If you would like to have your Engage & Excel registration fee waived or refunded, contact Casie Wenmohs at cwenmohs@texasstateofmind.org. As much as we would like to remove all costs, this offer does not extend to lodging or transportation expenses attendees may incur.

Again, thank you for all you do. You're what makes Texas a truly special place to be.

Sincerely,

Andy Keller
